

MRS. SHAVER SAYS SMITH IS FAKER AND A CHARLATAN

If Honest, He Would Have Refused to Run, Declares Wife of Democratic National Chairman.

RAKES DRIPPING WET UPON DRY PLATFORM

Women Won't Be Fooled, She Asserts, Predicting a Lot of Political Funerals Before Cold Weather.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(Charging that Gov. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee had "stamped himself as a charlatan and a faker," Mrs. Clem L. Shaver, wife of the Democratic National Chairman, in a statement today declared, "We dry Democratic women will not support the dripping wet ticket and joke platform named by the Tammany delegates at the recent convention at Houston.")

Mrs. Shaver, who is chairman of the West Virginia division of the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement League, asked, "How many times has Tammany supported the party nominee in the last 15 years?" And answered "Not once."

Mrs. Shaver said: "Regardless of what Democratic leaders from top to bottom may do, we dry Democratic women will not support the dripping wet ticket and the joke platform named by the Tammany delegates to the recent convention at Houston. And, furthermore, we do not believe more than a few of the million of the Democratic women in this country can be fooled as all of the Democratic leaders appear to have been fooled by it. The idea of men like Joseph Daniels, Dan Moody, Joe Robinson, Carter Glass and Joe Adams saying, 'I am a Democrat—I shall support the party nominee.' 'How many times has Tammany supported the party nominee in the last 15 years?' Not once. Yet they have fooled these heretofore able Democratic leaders into saying, 'I am a Democrat. I will vote for Tammany, whiskey and a slick platform.'"

"We say a man who will shut his eyes like an ostrich to the things which the Democratic party has always stood for is a 'boozo-a-cra,' not a Democrat. "The Democratic nominee has always said in his public utterances that the party should make the platform and a candidate should stand on it. He has always said that his one outstanding issue is whiskey and booze—the return of the legalized liquor traffic which means the return of the licensed saloon. Every one knows it, and when the party adopted a 'dry' platform, if the nominee had been either honest or sincere in his public utterances, he could have done nothing but decline the nomination. He did not and, therefore, stamped himself as a charlatan and a faker who is attempting to prove that Lincoln was wrong and that you can fool all the people all the time."

Mrs. Shaver wound up by predicting "more than one political funeral" would be celebrated before cold weather arrives.

CANOKIA CELEBRATES CAPTURE BY GEORGE ROGERS CLARK

The old French town of Cahokia, a few miles south of East St. Louis had a brief hour of revived glory last night. It figured again as a metropolis of the Mississippi Valley in the celebration of the 150th anniversary of its capture by George Rogers Clark at a dinner sponsored by the Northwest Territory Commission at the Broadview Hotel, East St. Louis.

Among the guests were many of those who joined the motor caravan that since Monday has traversed virtually the same route Clark took through Southern Illinois in his conquest of the territory from the British in the summer of 1778. "Clark stayed here in Cahokia all through July and August, treating all tribes of Indians after another," said Ross Lockridge of Bloomington, Ind., historian, principal speaker at the dinner. "He spent his days in councils and his nights at the palace of the Spanish Governor in St. Louis, where he courted the Governor's charming sister and gained the friendship of the Spaniards."

CAR FARE INCREASE PROTEST

Meeting to be held in Overland Monday. A protest meeting against an increase in street car fares by the Public Service Co. on the Creve Coeur line in St. Louis County will be held at 8:15 p. m. Monday at All Souls Hall, Hood and Tennyson avenues, Overland. The protest movement arose out of the establishment July 1 of a double fare from points west of Woodson road to downtown St. Louis, with discontinuance of sale of commutation books, an increase of 25 per cent.

REED AND COLLET CONFER ON CAMPAIGN

Senator Expected to Speak Before Primary in Democratic Counties.

Senator James A. Reed is in St. Louis for several days of conferences with Democrats on questions involved in the State primary campaign, and particularly on the candidacy of James A. Collet, of Salisbury for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator. Collet, who entered the campaign against Charles M. Hay with Reed's approval, has been making an active campaign against rather heavy odds. Hay having been campaigning several months before Collet announced his candidacy. It is the expectation that while in St. Louis Senator Reed will announce his intention to aid Collet by delivering several speeches in the counties having a heavy Democratic vote.

Senator Reed Restates His Views on Prohibition.

Senator Reed yesterday restated his views on prohibition to reporters for St. Louis newspapers in response to a question from one of them.

"I've very seldom in recent years have had occasion to complain about my treatment by the newspapers," he said, "but my Houston statement was distorted in leads and editorials. I cannot understand why such a construction could have been placed upon it. "I started in the campaign, and long before, urging the Democratic party to drop out of this campaign all questions upon which there was serious inter-party dispute and specifically named prohibition, the League of Nations, and any interment of any particular plan of farm relief, and urged that we should concentrate our efforts toward exterminating corruption and should make that the dominant note of the campaign, and should declare for the old party fundamentals on which there is substantial unity in the party. Among these I mentioned a return to the states of their original functions and duties."

"I said that at the Jackson Day dinner and in the long campaign, and I thought I had impressed the idea on the country."

"I was engaged in the advocacy of the same purpose at Houston, and it was in line with that thought that I gave out the statement regarding prohibition, and I repeated in that statement exactly what my position had been from the very first. I did not change it in the slightest. The Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, and voted to sustain President Wilson's veto. But I also said what I have often said, that the Eighteenth amendment and the law will remain until the moral forces of the nation become convinced there is a better way to handle the question. In that sentence seems to lurk all the occasion for the misunderstanding."

One Term Misconstrued. "The term 'moral forces' has been seized upon and construed as descriptive of the Anti-Saloon League. Nothing could have been farther from my thoughts. Of course everybody but an idiot knows two things. First, that the Anti-Saloon League would never consent to any change in the law except to make it more drastic and offensive. Second, the Anti-Saloon League has no monopoly on morality and does not embrace the moral forces of the United States. I do not mean to say it is immoral, but it is very far from having a monopoly on morals. "I meant that great body of our citizens who are interested in good government. It would have been a happier phrase if I had used the term 'people of the United States,' but it never occurred to me that that phrase would have been placed on it. That has been."

struction today. With the motor running at full force the combined strength of the two men was sufficient to open out the door which was besieged by the crows awaiting the verdict, and last night the throng was so great that extra troops were called to control it.

Two of the most conspicuous defendants, ranking among Russia's greatest engineers, were among those sentenced to prison. M. Rabinovitch, who got six years, and M. Kuzma, sentenced to three years.

Technical skill which may be useful to the Soviet state in the future was the chief factor in the case of the six men sentenced to death but recommended for clemency.

These men were Beresovsky, Matloff, Kasarimoff, Boyarchinoff, Shadun and Brizantovsky. The five for whom there is no hope under the verdict are Budney, Krishanovsky, Gorietsky, Yusevich and Boyarinnoff.

Those on trial were accused of having been engaged for eight years in sapping the Donetsk mine industry. During this time they received regular salaries through former mine owners living abroad as well as through agents of several German firms and official representatives of certain Powers in Russia.

11 SENTENCED TO DEATH IN RUSSIAN SABOTAGE TRIAL

Fifty Charged With Sapping Mine Industry for Eight Years and Receiving Foreign Pay.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, July 6.—Eleven sentences of death were handed down last night in the trial of 59 Russians and three Germans charged with anti-Government sabotage in the Donetsk coal mines. Six of the 11, however, were recommended for commutation.

The Germans were freed, two by acquittal and one on parole. Of the other Russians 27 were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment. The trial lasted many weeks and the Court deliberated 48 hours on its verdict.

No trial since the Soviet came into power has created such wide interest as this. For two days the court was besieged by the crows awaiting the verdict, and last night the throng was so great that extra troops were called to control it.

Two of the most conspicuous defendants, ranking among Russia's greatest engineers, were among those sentenced to prison. M. Rabinovitch, who got six years, and M. Kuzma, sentenced to three years.

Globe Girdlers Delayed When German Officials Seize Pistol After Plane Lands From Paris

John Henry Mears Comments on More Comfortable Mode of Travel Than When He Broke Record 15 Years Ago.

By JOHN HENRY MEARS, Globe Girdler Seeking to Establish a Travel Record.

COLOGNE, Germany, July 6.—We must have looked like a couple of Chicago gunmen dropping from the skies when we landed at Cologne at 9:35 tonight (2:35 p. m. St. Louis time) after a beautiful trip from Paris.

Our first half hour in the beautiful city on the Rhine was the most adventurous of our trip so far. On stepping off our machine we were accosted by police and officers of the flying field, who immediately asked what right we had flying over German territory.

We showed our passports, but evidently they were not satisfied because they called up Berlin officials. In less than half an hour the Berlin officials told them that we were O. K. but something about our appearance seemed to worry the police.

Collier's Pistol Is Seized. Our baggage was then searched and a pistol which Charley Collier was carrying was taken away by the police, who evidently feared we were up to some tricks. Things looked funny for a little while. I had visions of sleeping overnight in some hoosegow.

We were finally permitted to go to the Hotel Dom where we expect to rest until daylight, when we will take off for Berlin. We hope to take off between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning and will visit the Russian embassy to get our passport visas.

GLOBE CIRCLERS LEAVE BERLIN FOR MOSCOW

Arrival at German Capital 30 Minutes Behind Schedule, Due to Losing Way.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 6.—John H. Mears and Charles G. D. Collier, speeding around the world in an effort to establish a new time record, hopped off from Berlin for Moscow at 1:35 p. m. (6:35 a. m. St. Louis time).

Mears and Collier arrived at Tempelhof Airfield at 9:44 a. m. today by plane from Cologne. They were scheduled, having started from Cologne at 4:08 a. m. This was due to a forced landing on an open field at Landsberg on the Wartburg River, 80 miles east of Berlin.

"We had a beautiful flight out of Cologne until we reached a chain of lakes south of Berlin," Mears said. "There the weather was very misty and we lost our way. We were carried east. Finally we decided to land and get our bearings. We came down on an ordinary field at 8:15."

"The farmers did not grasp what we wanted as we could not speak their language, but soon a man on a bicycle came by who told us we were at Landsberg. After that it was easy to resume our way to Berlin."

Collier's first question was regarding the weather conditions on the route to Moscow, their next stop. When he was informed that with today's strong following wind he might make Moscow by night if he flew direct, he gave orders for an immediate refueling of the plane.

SUIT TO BAR TWO BUS LINES FROM MISSOURI BEFORE FARIS

Federal Judge Faris today began a hearing of the injunction suit of the Greyhound Lines, Chicago, Ill., against the Motor Stages, Inc., the Detroit-Chicago Motor Bus Co., to enjoin the two companies from operating through motor bus lines between St. Louis and Kansas City.

The Greyhound company alleges that the two companies were denied a license to operate interstate in Missouri by the state Public Service Commission and that the two companies by a subterfuge of selling tickets from St. Louis to Kansas City, Kan., and from Kansas City to East St. Louis, are avoiding the commission's jurisdiction.

The Greyhound company alleges that it is required under its license to stop at intermediate points leaving the main highway to reach such towns as Columbia, while the others take go straight through. The Greyhound charges $6 for a through trip and its competitors $4.50.

LIGHTNING KILLS FOOTBALL COACH AND THREE BOYS

All Four Struck by Same Bolt Under Tree Near Hendersonville, N. C.—Two Youths Injured.

By the Associated Press.
HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., July 6.—Four persons were killed and two seriously injured when lightning struck a tree under which they had gathered after a swim yesterday near Camp Minnehaha, a summer resort.

The dead are Perry Roehn, 45 years old; Alan Land and Burglass, 13; Edward Karsheed, 15. The names of the two injured boys who were taken to a hospital were not learned here. All were from New Orleans.

Roehn was a high school football coach.

HANOVER, N. J., July 6.—Two men were killed by one bolt of lightning here. Charles B. Jacobus, 56 years old, and Presto Phillips, 49, of Camden, N. J., who were building a house. They took refuge on the front porch when the storm approached and both were seated on a gas range when a flash of lightning struck, killing them instantly.

OPERATOR ON MUNICIPAL LINE

CAR HELD FOR MAN'S DEATH

Coroner's Jury Finds H. C. Varwig Was Criminally Careless in Case of Thomas Hannon.

Henry C. Varwig, 3925 Purcell avenue, attendant on a one-man car of the municipal waterworks line, was held by the coroner's jury today to have been criminally careless in the death of Thomas Hannon, 65-year-old laborer of 491 Baden avenue, who was thought to be a heat victim until an autopsy yesterday disclosed that his chest had been crushed.

Edward L. Ridgeway of 4388 Maryland avenue, a passenger on Varwig's car, testified that on Wednesday evening Varwig suddenly stopped the car and called, "There's a man on the track. See if I hit him." Ridgeway expressed the opinion that Hannon, whose body he found near the car, had not been hit by the car, since he was lying clear of the pilot. It was for that reason that the laborer was at first believed to have been stricken by the heat.

Varwig's bond was placed at $5000.

NEW PLOT TO ASSASSINATE ALBANIAN PRESIDENT FOILED

Leader of Ahmed Zogu's Opposition Arrested With Several Suspects; Palace Under Guard.

By the Associated Press.
TIRANA, Albania, July 6.—With a new plot against his life unearthed, President Ahmed Zogu refused to venture out of the presidential palace today and the guard about the building was doubled. A number of suspects and Ismail Shanin, alleged to represent former Premier Hassan Pristina, whose government was ousted by Zogu, were under arrest. A number of high officials are under surveillance.

The would-be assassins, police said, intended to shoot the President from ambush as he traveled from Tirana to Koritza by automobile, but the trip was abandoned. Shortly afterwards a large time bomb was found at Ahmed Zogu's villa at Durazzo, which he intended to visit.

Come — See Miss Steamer Saint Paul chosen from the season's most stunning Revue of Bathing Beauties—Thursday Night

Handsome Diamond Bracelet and Four Other Capital Prizes

Judges will select five girls—one of whom receives a handsome diamond bracelet as the grand prize. The other four bathing beauties selected will be given a gift worthy of the honor they have received.

A Prize for Every Entrant

In addition, every entrant receives a special prize or present. This is the revue where every body wins—even if they lose. Remember the date: Thursday, July 12. Remember the time: 10 p. m. (Boat leaves at 8:45.) And be there!

Remember the place! Remember the date! For here's the most stunning Bathing Beauty Revue of the season. A gala event you can't afford to miss. Previous queens are not eligible, so every girl has a chance to qualify as beauty queen of the colossal Steamer St. Paul. Three former queens—of 1925, 1926 and 1927—will lead the revue, but are not entered in the contest.

Information for Entrants!

Contest is open to single girls between 16 and 25 years of age. Winners to be selected for beauty, figure and grace. Dressing rooms with maid in attendance. All contestants admitted free to steamer with one friend. No preliminary arrangements necessary. Bring your own bathing suit. Revue starts at 10 p. m. (Boat leaves dock, however, at 8:45 p. m.) AIRPORT BOND ISSUE CAMPAIGN TO BE INTENSIVE

Committees to Lay Plans for the $2,000,000 Project Before All Civic and Business Bodies.

Organization of the new Municipal Airport Bond Issue Committee into components to work for the passage of the $2,000,000 flying field bond issue at the primary election on Aug. 7, was effected yesterday at an executive meeting at the Missouri Athletic Association.

The committee decided that it would make an intensive campaign for passage of the issue as a project necessary for St. Louis aeronautical development. An elaborate publicity campaign will be launched within a few days and speakers' committee will conduct a widespread program in which the merits of the bond issue proposal will be laid before civic and business organizations.

"All of the inspirations, traditions and prestige of Col. Lindbergh's exploits are at stake in the airport movement," said Lon Sanders, chairman of the speakers' committee. "The members of this committee are conscious of that and are prepared to appear before every organization in St. Louis during the next four weeks personally to explain the importance of this bond issue."

"Since the time before the election is so brief, however, it may be difficult for us to appear before every organization. For that reason we hope to receive invitations to address meetings prior to Aug. 7. We will send a speaker to any organization that will make the request of James A. Troy, secretary of the committee, at the Chamber of Commerce."

General Committee Organization.
Edwin B. Meissner, president of the St. Louis Car Co., is chairman of the new committee. E. M. Durham, vice president of the Missouri Pacific, is vice chairman, and Troy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is secretary. Mayor Miller is honorary chairman and Col. Lindbergh and Maj. Get Flesh On Your "Skinny" Body

New, Tasteless
YEAST and IRON builds up weight
in 3 weeks
—or pay nothing

"Gained 10 Pounds—Husband Pleased"
"I have taken IRONIZED YEAST only three weeks yet in that time I have gained 10 pounds of solid firm flesh. His wonderful. There were times when I felt so bad and skinny I was ashamed to go out and meet my friends. Now I am taking on weight and new life. My husband says I am now more like the girl he married eight years ago."
—Mrs. W. B. S., Dallas, Tex.

"30 Pounds Underweight; Now Back to Normal"
"I can truthfully say that I never received so much benefit from anything in so short a time. Before I began taking IRONIZED YEAST I was 30 pounds underweight, but now I am back to normal again. I am telling all my friends about it."
—Mrs. M. P. Ashby Park, N. J.

"15 Pounds Gained; Healthy and Strong"
"When I first started using IRONIZED YEAST I was so thin and weak I could hardly get through a day's work. But IRONIZED YEAST built me up like a miracle. 15 pounds were gained and I am so healthy and strong that no amount of work phases me."
—Mr. A. Lee Moore, Ia.

Don't Envy the Graceful, Well-Rounded Form
Learn the Secret of How to Have One

Women and men are amazed at the magic benefits of IRONIZED YEAST. Thin, weak bodies are brought up in weight and strength. Flesh is made round and firm. Hollows filled out. Skin made satiny smooth with the glow of girlhood. How is this done?

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured and concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value. So it is natural that after taking IRONIZED YEAST in a single course treatment you will notice an amazing improvement in your health, appearance and spirits. The skin loses its sallowness, blotchy look, pounds of good flesh are taken on.

So don't have a skinny, weak body that looks as though it had never been fed enough. Don't go around with an ugly skin. Go to your druggist today, and get a generous test treatment of IRONIZED YEAST—pleasant, tasty tablets in a handy bottle. They do not cause gas or bloating and are safe for everybody—contain no harmful drugs.

Try it on "Money-Back" Offer

Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment. If, after this generous trial, you are not delighted with effects, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 169-180.

CAUTION! While the amazing weight-building value of IRONIZED YEAST has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.

SECOND MAN HURT IN AUTO CRASH DIES OF INJURIES

Edwin Davis, Succumbs to Fractured Skull Suffered Near Cuba, Mo.—Julius Kuenne Other Victim.

Julius Kuenne, 35 years old, of 6200A Michigan avenue, and Edwin Davis, 217 Bates street, were fatally injured Wednesday when an automobile in which they were returning to St. Louis from a baseball game at Cuba, Mo., collided with another machine and overturned near Cuba.

The injured men were taken to Alexian Brothers' Hospital yesterday. Kuenne died several hours later and Davis died at 6 o'clock this morning. Both had suffered fractures of the skull. Noel Kilburz, 201A Bowen street, who was in the machine with them, suffered minor injuries.

When Mrs. Marie F. Lillie, 4948 Reber place, lost control of her automobile at Grand boulevard and Tholoan avenue, at 3 p. m. yesterday, it ran on the sidewalk, injured two persons and crashed into a building. The injured, Mrs. Charlotte Brown, and her 12-year-old son, William Jr., 3709 Winnebago street, suffered injuries to the back and legs.

Edward Murrell, undertaker, 2317 Virginia avenue, was driving east in Magnolia avenue at Tower Grove avenue today, when, in attempting to avoid a northbound automobile, he struck a westbound automobile and then caromed against a fire plug breaking it and causing a stream of water to flood the street. Murrell and the driver of the northbound car were arrested. Murrell's wife, riding with him, was injured.

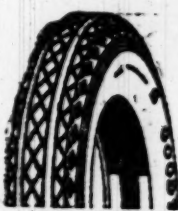

Slayers of Patrolman Executed. COLUMBUS, O., July 6.—James Coleman, 18 years old, and W. H. Wilson, 18, of Winston Salem, N. C., both Negroes, were electrocuted at Ohio penitentiary last night for the murder of Patrolman Paul Fredericks at Portsmouth, O., last February.

Disturbs Church Service, Fined. Clifford Tuggle, 17 years old, 1721 South Tenth street, was fined $25 in Police Court today for disturbing a religious meeting. He hurled a torpedo into the Pentcostal Mission, 1731 South Seventh street, while services were in progress, July 4. A portion of the exploding missile struck a woman in the congregation in the neck, slightly burning her.

To Honor Transferred Priest. The Rev. E. J. Meier, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Kirkwood, who has been appointed pastor of the Catholic Church in Moselle, Mo., will be honored at a farewell reception next Wednesday night in the parish hall. The Rev. Alphonse W. Hoff of O'Fallon, Mo., will succeed him as assistant to the Rev. Eugene Coyle at St. Peter's Church.

UNION ELECTRIC AUDIT UNDER ADVISEMENT

Company Says It Has No Objection to City Plea, but Points Out Cost.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 6.—The Public Service Commission today took under advisement the application of the city of St. Louis for an audit of Union Electric Light & Power Co., to determine whether the company could not reduce its rates by $700,000 a year or more, including those of residence consumers.

The commission will not reach a decision until next week, as three of the members are absent.

Accountants for the commission said at least a year would be required, with the present commission staff, to make an audit of the plant investment, revenues and expenses, depreciation charges, and the power contracts with interrelated or subsidiary companies, as requested by the city.

City Counselor J. T. Muench raised a question as to the company's attitude on investigation of the power contracts with the Cahokia plant, operated by a company interrelated with the Union Electric and the Keokuk hydro electric plant, operated by a subsidiary of the Union Electric.

While these contracts involved interstate commerce, he declared the commission had a right to go into them as to the propriety of charges made for power purchased.

Theodore Rassieur, attorney for the company, said the company would concede the city the right to inquire into these contracts, and into questions of the cost and operating expenses of these plants. He declared the company's books were open to the public.

The interrelated threat that the company would seek a full valuation if its rates or valuation were disturbed by the audit, again was raised by Rassieur. He said the company did not object to an audit, but declared nothing had been shown by the city to justify the expense that an audit would entail. He said nothing had been shown "to justify the commission taking staff from other work and devoting a year to the audit."

City Counselor Muench did not share the company's concern as to the expense or the time that would be required for the investigation. He said that the city and consumers were entitled to know the exact facts. He said the company had taken the position that its annual reports must be taken as they are, with a threat that if they were not accepted, a full valuation proceeding would be forced. He declared this was not a fair attitude.

FLYER FORCED DOWN ON CONTINENTAL TOUR

Will Join Other 22 at Fort Worth, Tex. Today, Waco Is Tomorrow's Goal.

By the Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 6.—Pilots and passengers participating in the national air tour from Detroit to the West coast and return, will leave for Waco and San Antonio tomorrow.

Twenty-two of the 23 planes that left Tulsa, Ok., yesterday morning covered the 240 miles to Fort Worth without incident. Pilot E. W. Cleveland was forced down about 40 miles from here by engine trouble. He expected to complete the flight today.

Pilot John P. Wood lands in points with 4203. Charles Meyers ranks second with 4153 and Bruce Braun third, with 3952.1. Point scoring is based on the load carried, skill displayed in landing and taking off and general efficiency of pilots and planes.

ENGINEER DISCOVERS WASHOUT AVERTS NICKEL PLATE WRECK

A mile of the main line of the Nickel Plate Railroad near Donnellson, Ill., 70 miles east of St. Louis, was washed out by heavy rains in that section early today. The engineer of No. 9, fast Cleveland-to-St. Louis passenger train, discovered the washout. Alarmed by high water, he stopped the train and walked ahead, discovering the Bear Creek and Shoal Creek the Donnellson district and second. The train was backed to Ramsey Railroad over which other Nickel washout, thus averting an accident. Both were out of their banks in dry highways were under water, and detoured via Pennsylvania. Plate trains moved today.

Ovation for Hoover at Highway Session

Republican Nominee Makes Address and Confers With Political Advisers.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Secretary Hoover received an ovation here today when he made a brief address before the traffic ordinance committee of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety of which he is chairman.

The Republican presidential candidate told the committee that its efforts toward the adoption of uniform laws were making headway and that the plan eventually would be accepted. He said it States had adopted the main recommendation of its conference and that 15 or 20 others were considering the plan and were likely to approve it.

Hoover was engaged today in listening to the pressure of his personal persuasion to bear on the task of completing the Republican national organization. James A. Good of Chicago, his pre-convention campaign manager, who has been urged to take the leadership in the western election campaign, was given an hour with the Secretary.

Senator Moses (Rep.), New Hampshire, who has been reported as probable eastern manager, followed Good, and Henry J. Allen of Kansas, who has been selected to manage the national committee's publicity campaign, also conferred with him. National Republican Chairman Work lunched with the Secretary and with Senator Moses. Other callers were Representative Edith N. Rogers (Rep.), Massachusetts, and Samuel D. Bear, who helped organize Hoover engineering clubs.

Returning to the capital after a visit with the President, Chairman Work of the national committee yesterday took occasion to correct what he termed a “misimpression of a statement he made while in the West. He denied he had said there was “no farm problem,” and asserted he actually had declared that “the farm problem was a national problem and proposed a specific plan of relief.”

The investigation, said the pool had been issuing 100,000 chances at $1

Don't fool yourself:

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Before any "date" —end halitosis

BEFORE any engagement where you wish to appear at your best, decency demands that you rinse the mouth with Listerine.

By so doing you eliminate any risk of offending by halitosis (unpleasant breath).

You never have it? Don't fool yourself—you simply cannot know when you have it. It doesn't announce itself to you. But it does to others and offends them.

Listerine ends halitosis because it is a powerful deodorant. Prove it this way. Rub a bit of onion on your hand—then apply Listerine clear. Immediately the odor is gone. Even the odor of fish yields to it.

Keep a bottle handy in home and office and use it. It makes you agreeable to others instead of disagreeable. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

DIVORCES TRAFFIC POLICEMAN SHE MET ON COURT SUMMONS

Miss Margaret J. Brown and James B. Freeman Lived Together Seven Days.

The romance which sprang up when Motorcycle Patrolman James B. Freeman handed Miss Margaret J. Brown a "ticket" for police court on a traffic violation, was short-lived. Miss Brown became Mrs.

Freeman on March 1, last, and eight days later they were separated.

Obtaining a divorce yesterday, Mrs. Freeman charged general indignities alleging her policeman husband was cold, overbearing and indifferent. Freeman entered a denial, but did not contest. Mrs. Freeman's maiden name was restored. She is the daughter of Mrs. W. I. Brown of the Kingsway Hotel.

NEW YORK WELCOMES MISS EARHART AND AIDS

Crew of Trans-Atlantic Plane Friendship Acclaimed on Return to U. S.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Miss Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly across the Atlantic Ocean stepped back on American soil soon after 10 o'clock today, after a return journey from Europe by boat, to receive a noisy welcome from admiring crowds and the official congratulations of the city. With her were Wilmer Stultz and Louis Gordon, pilot and mechanic on the flight.

The flyers arrived on the President Roosevelt last night but remained on the ship at quarantine until they were taken off by the city tug Macom docked at the Battery. Miss Earhart and her companions were driven to City Hall for the official welcome.

Windows along Broadway were crowded with office workers anxious for a glimpse of the woman flyer and her companions.

Acting Mayor McKee presented each of the three aviators with a scroll of welcome, but only Miss Earhart's was signed by Mayor Walker, who is in California. The other two were signed by McKee.

Praising Miss Earhart as the first of her sex to fly across the Atlantic, the scroll handed her read: "To the fame you have already won as a business woman, student of literature, philanthropic worker among the settlements of the poor, and as a poet, you have now added the crowning laurel as conqueress of the air.

"Your bravery, your indomitable spirit, the feminine modesty which has characterized your victory will, we are sure, prove a burning inspiration to the womanhood of America."

Stultz was acclaimed for his "deed of aeronautical daring in piloting the monoplane Friendship across the Atlantic."

"Not alone to the leader of great enterprises belongs the glory of victory," read the scroll handed Gordon.

The party that went down the bay to meet the flyers included Commander Richard E. Byrd, trans-Atlantic and North Pole flyer.

LABOR'S ATTITUDE TOWARD CANDIDATES

State Body Issues List of Indorsements; Page Favored for U. S. Senate.

William R. Schneider and Henry S. Caulfield of St. Louis and Phil A. Bennett of Springfield, Republican candidates for nomination for Governor, have been indorsed by the joint Legislative Committees of the State Federation of Labor and the State Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers, Conductors and Firemen, who made their indorsements public today.

Francis M. Wilson of Kansas City and A. L. McCawley of Carthage, Democratic candidates for nomination for Governor, were indorsed, Wilson being favored over McCawley because of his efforts in behalf of labor while in the Missouri Legislature. Bennett and Schneider also have good records in behalf of labor, Schneider being attorney for the union street car men here.

For U. S. Senator. Other indorsements follow: For United States Senator, Republican—O. J. Page of Springfield. Democrat—No indorsement. Lieutenant-Governor: Republican—E. H. Winter, Jefferson City. Democrat—Frank G. Harris, Columbia.

For Congress: First District—M. A. Romjue, Macon; Second District—R. J. Lozier, Carrollton; Third District—J. L. Mulligan, Richmond; Sixth District—C. C. Dickinson, Clinton; Seventh District—Sam C. Major, Fayette; Eighth District—W. L. Nelson, Columbia; Ninth District—C. C. Cannon, Ellisberry; Fourteenth District—J. F. Fulbright, Doniphan; Sixteenth District—T. L. Kube, Lebanon. The report expresses disapproval of Joseph J. Manlove, candidate in the Fifteenth District, because of his alleged activities in behalf of prison labor contractors.

Candidates for State Senator indorsed by the committee include Richard F. Ralph of St. Louis County and Michael H. Kinney, Hugo Weismantel, Frank B. Warner, J. W. Brown and Edward J. "Jellyroll" Hogan, who seek to represent St. Louis districts.

For Secretary of State the committee indorse Charles U. Becker of Jefferson City and E. E. Stephens, Jefferson City, on the Republican side, and James T. O'Brien of St. Louis, Democrat.

L. D. Thompson, Jefferson City, Republican candidate for State Auditor, is declared "unduly partial" to the railroad corporations in the report and was not indorsed. Larry Brunk, Aurora, Republican candidate for State Treasurer, was indorsed, as were L. C. Lozier, Carrollton, and E. C. Jones, LaPlata, Democratic candidates for Attorney General.

Alroy S. Phillips, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Commission and Republican candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, was approved.

The Legislative Committee of the Central Trades & Labor Union will report its indorsements of candidates for municipal offices at Sunday's meeting at Unity Hall, Grand and Page boulevard.

TWO WOMEN KILLED IN FALLS AT HOMES

Two widows were injured fatally yesterday in falls at their homes. Mrs. Myrtle M. Newhouse, 52 years old, fell through an unroofed porch at her home, 5246 Delmar boulevard, to a concrete walk 12 feet below. She died of a fractured skull an hour later at Jewish Hospital. Carpenters were repairing the rear porch. Apparently unaware that the flooring had been removed, Mrs. Newhouse stepped out of the kitchen door and plunged to the walk. Her body will be sent tomorrow to Zanesville, O., for burial.

Mrs. Johanna Marschel, 69, fell down a flight of stairs at the home of her son, Arthur Marschel, 2834A Indiana avenue, and suffered a skull fracture. She died at 2:30 p. m. at City Hospital.

Bracey and Wycoff Equal 100-Meter Mark Twice

Simpson Also Touches Olympic Record in Tryouts at Cambridge

By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 6.—Claude Bracey, crack sprinter from Rice Institute, Texas, and Frank Wycoff, sensational youngster from Glendale, Cal., furnished the sensations of the 100-meter Olympic trials today when each equaled the Olympic record of 10 3-5 seconds for the second straight time.

Bracey fought off the challenges of Jackson School and Frank Husey, to win his second test in a thrilling duel that found the three blanketed at the finish.

Wycoff's second victory was as impressive as his first, for he was a yard and a half in front of Henry Russell of the Penn A. C. and two yards ahead of Bob McAllister of New York.

In the third heat of this series, George Simpson, Ohio State flyer, also registered his second straight victory, but he needed to do only 10 4-5 seconds to beat Charley Padlock by a good yard. Padlock closed with a rush to beat Jimmy Quinn of Holy Cross.

George Simpson, flashy Ohio State sprinter, signaled the start of the final American Olympic track and field tryouts today by equalling the Olympic record of 10 3-5 seconds for the 100-meters dash, on a soggy track.

Upset in Shotput.

An upset marked the shotput trials when Herman Drix, University of Washington star, heaved the 16-pound ball a distance of 50 feet 3 1/2 inches to beat the famous trial from the Pacific coast, Krenz, Kuck and Rothert, as well as Herb Schwartz, the Wisconsin giant, and fifth qualifier for the finals tomorrow.

Brix's mark, figured to a basis of 50.27 feet, broke the National A. A. U. championship record by one-hundredth of a foot, the National title being at stake in connection with the Olympic trials. Ralph Rose set the old championship record at 50.26 feet in 1909.

Harlow, Rothert of Stanford, second in the shot put, hung up a mark of 49 feet 8 1/2 inches on his first try but could not better it. John Kuek of the Los Angeles A. C. hung up a mark of 49 feet 5 1/2 inches, a record of 51 feet a few weeks ago, tossed 49 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Dan Beattie of Colorado Aztecs failed to qualify, putting the ball 48 feet 11 1/2 inches on his best try and finishing eighth behind Mortimer Sprague, army football captain, and Dave Adelman of Georgetown. Sprague's best was 47 feet 1 1/2 inches and Adelman's 47 feet.

Dan Lyon of the University of Illinois also failed to make the grade, his best being 46 feet 5 1/2 inches while Jesse Baldwin of Texas and Alfred Howell of Oklahoma, listed entries, did not compete.

Ed Hamer, famous Georgia Tech hurdler, held his field with the 400-meter dash, first 2 1/2 inches, to beat Dehart Hubbard of Cincinnati, the world's record holder and Olympic champion, among others.

Hamer's jump was more than foot better than that of his nearest rival, Al Bates of Penn State College. Two intercollegiate champions, while Hubbard's first jump of 23 feet 11 1/2 inches was his best and gave him third position.

Other broad jumpers who failed to qualify and their marks including: Glen Rice, 22 feet 11 1/2 inches; Cecil Smith, University of Texas, 22 feet 11 1/2 inches; G. McCreary, University of Kansas, 22 feet 6 1/2 inches; Kimball Dyer, Stanford, 22 feet 4 1/2 inches; Robert Stephens, Shenandoah, N. Y., 22 feet 1 1/2 inches.

St. Louis Is Eliminated.

The casualties as the second 100-meter trials reduced the field to nine contestants. Included the track Tolemy schoolboy, Don Bennett, who finished fourth in the heat won by Bracey. Eddie Tolson of Detroit and Frank Lombardi of Los Angeles were fifth and sixth in the same heat.

The third heat saw the elimination of Aubrey Cockburn, Texas, representing the Headlight A. C. of St. Louis, and Roland Locke of the New York A. C. former New York, who finished sixth and last.

Wright and Lee In Henley Final

By the Associated Press.

HENLEY, Eng., July 6.—R. T. Lee, Worcester College, Oxford, holder of the Diamond Sculls, today entered the final of the single sculling event, by defeating D. Guye, London. Lee won by one and one-half lengths in 1 minute 19 seconds.

Thames Rowing Club defeated London Rowing Club by a length in a semifinal for the Grand Challenge Cup, eight-oared crew event, in the fast time of 7 minutes 12 seconds.

In the other semifinal, Trinity College, Cambridge, defeated the Leander Club eight by one and one-half lengths in 7 minutes 13 seconds.

Joe Wright Jr., Annapolis Club, Toronto, defeated his clubmate, Jack Guest, by a half length in nine minutes, five seconds.

Wright and Lee will meet in the final tomorrow. They were final last year, when the Canadian's craft struck a boom while in the lead.

Wright did not appear to exert himself unduly in his victory over Guest. Wright took the lead at the gun, although Guest cut his margin to half a length with a magnificent spurt at the quarter mile. Rowing well within himself, Wright held Guest off and finished easily with a half-length margin.

MULLEN SUSPENDED BY THE BROWNS

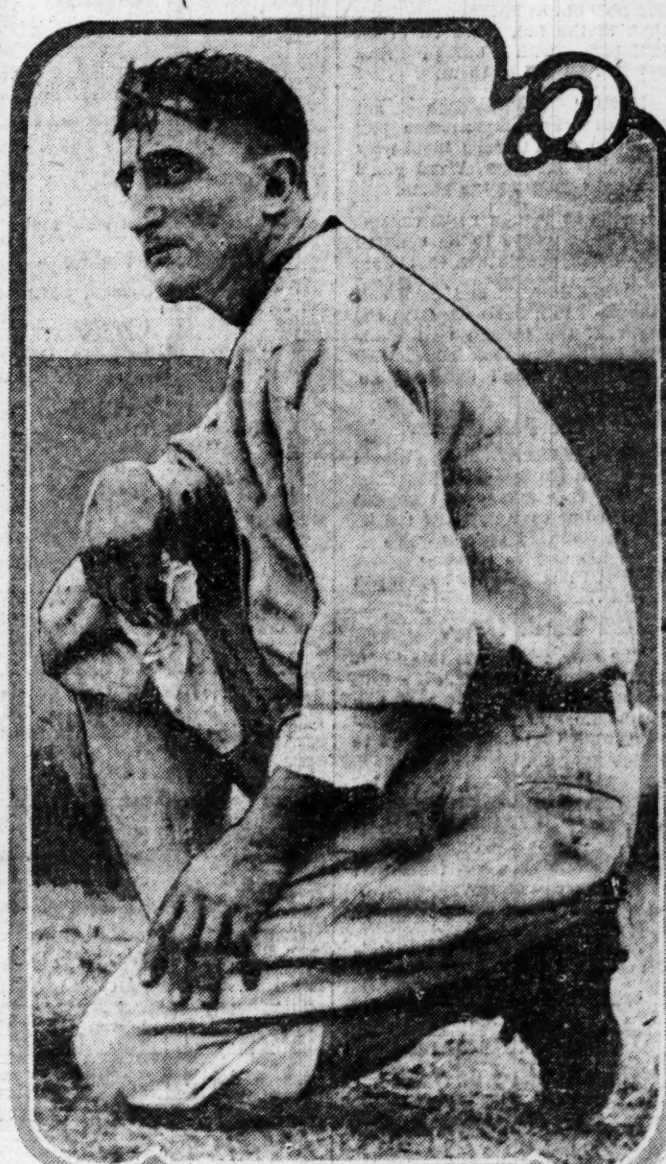

Bill Mullen, infielder, whom the Browns transferred to Dallas then to Kansas City has been returned to the Browns and has been placed on the indefinitely suspended list.

Mullen came to the Browns from Toronto before the start of the 1927 season and because of an injury to his knee suffered in the 1926 season has never been able to play regularly.

URBAN SHOCKER DRAWS RELEASE FROM YANKEES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Urban Shocker, who won 18 games for the Yankees last season, was given his unconditional release by Miller Huggins today. Falling faith and a failure to round into the condition which gave him ranking as one of the best pitchers in the game, caused his passing from the diamond picture.

Shocker pitched only two innings for the Huggins this season. He joined the team several weeks after the season opened, and was given a contract contingent on his ability to round into shape.

Shocker will return to his home in St. Louis and attempt to regain his health before deciding whether he will continue in baseball or enter business.

Shocker's passing thus the fast-fading number of spital pitchers in the American League to Stanley Coveleskie, the veteran, Jack Quinn, of the Athletics, and the equally venerable Red Faber of the White Sox.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., July 6.—Harry Heilmann, outfielder for the Detroit Tigers and batting champion of the American League last year, was named defendant in a $69,274 suit filed today by the American Life Insurance Co.

Heilmann, his wife, May A. Maynes Heilmann, and a trust company were named joint defendants, the plaintiff charging that Heilmann has failed to make payments on an apartment building here which he purchased under contract in 1921.

WALTER HOOVER IN FINAL TRIAL FOR OLYMPICS

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Your great college crews were still to the running today for the chance to row for the United States at the Olympic games.

California was pitted against Columbia and Yale against Princeton in the semifinal heats to be rowed today this afternoon on the Schuylkill.

THE ORLEANIAN IS VICTOR IN FOURTH AT FAIRMOUNT; LEYLAND TAKES OPENER

By Dent McSkimming Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

FAIRMOUNT RACE TRACK, July 6.—This afternoon's race program bore a holiday aspect through the presence of amateur riders, who took the place of jockeys in two races.

In opening the card, nine horses went to the post in a six-furlong race with amateur riders astride them. Each horse carried 160 pounds, except Leyland, and he turned up the winner.

George S. Voet, who rode the winner, is a member of the St. Louis Country Club and is a polo player. Thus, he knew how to get his horse in front at the finish, beating Lieutenant P. Ford on Harry Carroll by a length. Heatherwine was third. Voet scaled 152 pounds.

The crowd of 7000 enjoyed the spectacle of the oversized jockeys immensely. The betting on the race was light.

Leyland was the favorite and paid $6.50 for $2. The others that finished in the money were also favorites. The winner's time was 1 minute and 18 seconds, almost 7 seconds slower than the track record.

Richardson on Another Winner.

R. Richardson, the boy who had three winning mounts yesterday, started off in the same stride today when he put Veia across in the second race, beating Golden Art and Fleming in a hot finish. Fleming was an even-money favorite and her failure to win was a shock to the crowd.

Gloria Hare set the pace for the first quarter, but when the field reached the finish line she was a mishap. Veia paid $15 1/2 for $2.

Clutter Pays $44.

Clutter, a 3-year-old daughter of John P. Grier, was the winner of the third race, paying $44 for $2. Jockey G. Williams had the filly, one in front in the first few strides and although hard pressed every step of the way, she never permitted any of the others to draw even. In the stretch, Monaghan, the favorite, came fast but the group, who had lost in the first quarter mile kept her completely out of the money.

The Orleanian Takes Fourth.

The Orleanian nipped Fritz at the wire, which brings to a close the late rush of the winner and of Yalovian made the finish a thrilling one. Fritz holding on just long enough to get the tip of his nose in front of the Orleanian.

Ruth Gold, who had fought gamely with Crafty Saint to take the early lead, weakened in the stretch and dropped back to fifth. She was a second choice in the betting, the Orleanian being the favorite. The winner, well handled by A. Tiner, was restrained in fifth and fourth place until the half-mile ground, when he moved up and beat Fritz and then passed the latter in the stretch. He paid $6 1/2 for $2.

$5000 HANDICAP TOMORROW, LAST DAY OF MEETING

Tomorrow's closing day program will be featured by the Jefferson Hotel Handicap, a $5000 stake in which there will be six starters.

Broadside, the son of Mon O'War which scored a sensational comeback at this meeting after a year's retirement from the turf, possibly will go to the post favorite, unless the Audley Farm entry of Chancellor and Bobasha takes that honor. The distance is a mile and one-eighth.

There are eight races on the card, which brings to a close the 37-day meeting, which opened on May 26.

In addition to the Jefferson Handicap, there are two other features. One is a dash for 3-year-olds, in which nine are entered, and the other a three-quarter mile event for 3-year-olds and up. There are four races of over a mile on the card.

"Red" Smith Gets Release

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6.—J. C. "Red" Smith today was released as manager of the Springfield club of the Three-I League and his duties taken over by Roy Whitcraft, former manager of the Terre Haute and Evansville clubs. Springfield finished seventh in the first half of the present Three-I season.

However, with the worry of covering an unfamiliar position off the crest, he may return to the farm that had him leading the league with an average well above .400 in the early stages of the race. The fact that Orsatti plays ball all the time, trying his best, has made a hit with local fans.

Only recently was the made-over outsider seen to the garden, displacing Pat Duncan and Zach Wheat in left field. There Orsatti appeared right at home covering the outfield with great ability but failing to hit with the same power that made him the terror of the league in early season games.

Many of the pitchers in this league have found Orsatti's weakness at the plate, consequently he has been struck out frequently more often with men on the path.

ORSATTI FELL IN HITTING AS FIRST BASEMAN

MINNEAPOLIS, July 6.—Although Ernest Orsatti, recalled by the Cardinals from Minneapolis yesterday, has been with the Minn. team less than a full season, in the time he has played here he has had a varied career. The Italian who doubles for Buster Keaton in the films during the winter months started off as if he was going to be a first baseman, and in the first few games he was hit by his hitting and but for an unfortunate break might have continued to whine the ball at a terrific clip.

Early in the season Manager Mike Kelly found Orsatti without a first baseman since he had traded Dick Loftus to Louisville for Leo Cotter. Cotter is a high-class first sacker defensively, but is woefully weak with the stick. Since Cotter was in no condition physically to play when he reported to the Minn. club, the Miller pilot pulled Orsatti from the outfield and placed him at first, a position Buster never had played before. Orsatti willingly took the job against his better judgment.

His playing around the initial sack was far from satisfactory and as a consequence Orsatti's hitting fell off also until now he is batting but .288, having engaged in 17 games Orsatti was at bat 281 times getting 83 hits for a batting average of .295.

Only recently was the made-over outsider seen to the garden, displacing Pat Duncan and Zach Wheat in left field. There Orsatti appeared right at home covering the outfield with great ability but failing to hit with the same power that made him the terror of the league in early season games.

Many of the pitchers in this league have found Orsatti's weakness at the plate, consequently he has been struck out frequently more often with men on the path.

HEENEY'S BOXING WORKOUTS CUT TO FOUR ROUNDS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 6.—Tom Heenev is approaching a keen fighting edge so rapidly that his trainers have eased up on his boxing program and are giving him occasional relief from the daily grind of camp routine.

For the last two days he has cut the boxing from six to four rounds and on hot mornings he shortens up on his road work. For the first time since the warm weather set in Heenev will not put on the big gloves today. He will box tomorrow and Sunday, which are big days in this camp, and ease off again the first of next week.

It has been a grind down here for the heavyweight challenger for more than two weeks. Outdoor life, regular hours, plenty of sleep and his training exercises are hardening the old rock of "down under," who is sound to the core. His taunting is accentuated in the ring here. Tom takes plenty of knocks, but his strong joints and stout legs serve him well.

Tunney isn't going to have any picnic in 15 rounds with Heenev. Most likely he will get tired of clipping Thomas on his concrete face and those last five rounds may be very distressing to him.

Heenev's boxing for the last two days has been better than anything he ever showed in a gymnasium. He has two new sparring partners, Paul Swiderski and Jay Lawless, and they can testify to the weight of Tom's sharp punches. Lawless, who is a big fellow and a good puncher himself, waded into Heenev yesterday and they slapped each other merrily for two rounds.

Tom rocked Jay's head with fast, snappy counters and was especially effective with short, lifting uppercuts and left hooks to the body and head.

Two Navy Mat Stars Win in Olympic Trials

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 6.—After 48 hours of almost uninterrupted wrestling the army of amateur grapplers contesting for places on the American Olympic team today had been squeezed down to a mere handful with sectional representation among the survivors about equal.

The East, after a poor start in the preliminaries, during which a number of its brightest prospects failed to deliver, came through in the first bracket of the quarter finals last night in fine style.

H. J. Dyson, welterweight, and H. L. Edwards, heavyweight, of the United States Naval Academy, turned in impressive victories. Dyson downed Joseph Arsenault, New York (Mass.), Y. M. C. A. star, and Edwards beat Raymond Schwartz of Oklahoma A. & M. College. Mario Maholia, middleweight of the Boston Y. M. C. A., and John Reed, Bethlehem, Pa., featherweight, continued to march through all opposition. Reed eliminated William Moorehouse of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, one of the outstanding favorites of the tourney.

The Middle Western favorites, William Culp, University of Illinois, middleweight; Ralph Luthon of Northwestern, Western Conference heavyweight champion, and Alie Morrison of Illinois, defending lightweight titleholder, won easy victories.

Edwin Forbes, middleweight, and Howard Ecklund, featherweight, both of the Los Angeles A. C., brushed by a quarter final competition without extending themselves. Other Pacific Coast stars who turned in victories were Cyril Mitchell, 125 pounds, and Ben F. Sherman, 125, all of the Multnomah A. C., Portland, Ore.

Harry Steele, Ohio State heavyweight star who drew a bye in the first round, got into competition last night and won from Barney Ostapowicz of Grand Rapids.

Training Camp Work Has Been Satisfactory, Says Challenger Tom Heenev

By Tom Heenev.
As Told to a Special Representative of the Post-Dispatch.
FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 6.—We were talking about Les Darcy the other night after going through the day's round of work. It is quiet and peaceful here on the porch after dinner, and conversation turned to boxers who came down from "down under."

There have been a lot of good ones from the days of Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Jackson and Frank Slavin on down through the years. Considering the population, Australia and New Zealand have turned up more than their share of fighting men.

Back home they haven't stopped talking about Darcy. The kid had everything. He could box, but his strong joints and stout legs served him well. Tunney isn't going to have any picnic in 15 rounds with Heenev. Most likely he will get tired of clipping Thomas on his concrete face and those last five rounds may be very distressing to him.

Heenev's boxing for the last two days has been better than anything he ever showed in a gymnasium. He has two new sparring partners, Paul Swiderski and Jay Lawless, and they can testify to the weight of Tom's sharp punches. ENEMIES TRYING TO HURT TEX, TUNNEY ASSERTS

By Alan J. Gould.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, July 6.—It may be gathered that the situation has become a little serious when the heavyweight champion of the world personally takes up the cudgels for Tex Rickard in the best interests of the title affair in which Tom Heenev is to be the party of the second part.

Taking cognizance, as the boys say, of the widely circulated reports that developments might occur to halt or postpone the championship bout, Gene Tunney, who by telegram he is "surprised" that anyone "would lend credence to pernicious rumor started by enemies of Rickard with purpose to belittle the contest of the 26th and discredit Rickard."

"Can assure you," he concludes, "contest will be fought on July 26 regardless of what rumor creators and detractors say."

There is no side-stepping or pulling of verbal punches here. The champion's spokesman, Steve Hannagan, takes an even stiffer wallop at "Rickard's enemies."

"Palpable plot," is the way Hannagan brands the rumors, anathema and skepticism that have added to surround the big bout. He adds: "Contest Will Take Place."

"Regardless of what rumors say, you can rest assured that contest will take place and with no other opponent than Tom Heenev, who has proved his right to match by his record of victories since his arrival in this country 18 months ago. Story he is to be replaced by Sharkey, ridiculous as Sharkey is by virtue of his defeat at the hands of Risko eliminated."

This appears to make it unanimous. Rickard and Tunney both have made it clear there will be a fight at the Yankee Stadium for the heavyweight title on the night of July 26, top price $40 including the tax of 25 per cent. Since each has a somewhat strong personal interest in the affair their emphatic rebuttal ought to discourage the doubters and skeptics even if it does not drive them entirely to cover.

Whether or not any "plot" is involved is something else. There is a chance for the fight elsewhere. It is not clear to observers, however, just how the plotters, if any, have managed to influence the indifference that is manifestly widespread. Tunney blames it on "detractors." Rickard on just plain "knockers."

CHAMPION TUNNEY BOXES SIX ROUNDS WITH SPARRING MATES

SPECTACULAR. N. Y., July 6.—Avoiding the scorching sun of mid-day, Gene Tunney yesterday went through his training paces in the cool of the early morning, boxing three rounds with both Harold Mays and Billy Vidaback. He also punched the bag, but did no road work.

There have been a lot of good ones from the days of Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Jackson and Frank Slavin on down through the years. Considering the population, Australia and New Zealand have turned up more than their share of fighting men.

WHEAT FUTURES DECLINE ON CHICAGO BOARD

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 6.—Despite buying based on Minnesota reports of black rot, wheat futures declined on the Chicago board today. The decline was due to reports of a large crop in the Northwest and to the fact that the market was overbought.

Interesting and Valuable

"J. T. JR." The Biography of An African Monkey. By Delia E. Akeley. (Macmillan.)

FIVE years ago the late Carl Akeley, famous big-game hunter and taxidermist, recorded his adventures in a volume entitled "In Brightest Africa." He had made four extended expeditions into the interior of the continent for the American Museum of Natural History. Interest in the years when large elephant herds were to be encountered where now the motor car is heard. With him went his plucky wife, Delia Akeley, who here sets forth in a simple, charming manner, some of her own experiences in the African wilderness. But it is no Amazon's book that Mrs. Akeley has written. Though she experienced many half-raising adventures with her husband and stood up to them like a courageous woman, she seems to have done so less as an adventurer than as her man's loyal woman. Upon one occasion, when she and Mr. Akeley were in an exceedingly tight place with a wounded and murderous bull elephant, she frankly confesses that she collapsed with fright—not, however, until she had done her duty with a small caliber rifle and her man was safe. Nor was she greatly interested in her husband's triumphant announcement that he had never seen so large a beast. "Both your old elephant," said she, "I want to go home and keep house." And there were other occasions for frankly confessing a paralyzing terror, as when, deep in the sunless jungle, haunted by unseen monsters, she was obliged to retreat into the kindly country of the day.

It is only incidentally that Mrs. Akeley refers to her wider adventures. Her chief interest is a group of elephants for the American Museum. Mrs. Akeley captured a female baby monkey on the Tana River and, disregarding the small fact of sex, named the little beast after her friend, J. T. McCutcheon, the cartoonist. "J. T. Jr." became the mascot of the traveling camp, and with a native boy to carry her and look after her needs, she saw many a strange land, and withal, she was an exceptionally well-written.

During the second expedition of the Akeleys into Africa, made for the purpose of securing a group of elephants for the American Museum, Mrs. Akeley captured a female baby monkey on the Tana River and, disregarding the small fact of sex, named the little beast after her friend, J. T. McCutcheon, the cartoonist. "J. T. Jr." became the mascot of the traveling camp, and with a native boy to carry her and look after her needs, she saw many a strange land, and withal, she was an exceptionally well-written.

After several years of wandering with her mistress in Africa, "J. T." was brought to New York, where she lived in an apartment hotel until, at the age of 12, becoming dandified through her extreme sensitiveness, she was given to a zoo. Her death soon after seems to have been caused by what we might call a broken heart.

It is a pitiful story and one over which many readers are likely to ponder. "J. T." seems to have developed beyond the stage that is good for a being with such natural handicaps in a human world. We are assured, and with good reason for belief, that the little monkey came to understand not only the moods of human beings, but even the drift of their casual conversation to a considerable extent.

Though Mrs. Akeley made no effort to teach "J. T." wishing rather to penetrate the monkey's consciousness than to impose human traits upon it, the cunning little travesty of man learned to speak the word yes in answer to simple questions relating to her own desires. When the answer should have been no, "J. T." ignored the question.

"J. T. Jr." is not only an excellent story for both grownups and youngsters; it is an important contribution to the study of animal intelligence.

WE COULD CUT COSTS—BUT—THERE are many places where the cost of Angelica Hoovers could be cut down. The overlaps, the bottom hems and edge facings could be narrower. The collar and cuffs could be shaped and finished to save goods at the expense of fit and appearance. Reinforcements of strain points could be omitted. All these and more could be done, but then they wouldn't be Angelica Hoovers. You must see these fine dresses—sold only by Angelica. Mail orders filled, if you can't come in.

MORE OF D'ANNUNZIO'S BOOKS DISAPPROVED BY THE POPE

Placed on the Index of Prohibited Works, But Discretion Is Allowed to Bishops.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Italy, July 6.—All the works of Gabriele d'Annunzio, the poet, which are deemed "offensive to the faith and morality" are to be considered on the index of prohibited works, the Observatore Romano, official Vatican organ, says today.

The newspaper reproduces a statement of the congregation of the Holy Office printed in the official organ. Acts Apostolicæ Sedis. The statement replies to the request of several Bishops, asking whether, in addition to D'Annunzio's novels, his plays, poems and selected prose, notably those produced following the first indexing on May 8, 1911, came under the ban.

The Holy Office answered affirmatively, with the qualification that it was left to the local Bishops to judge when they were of fensive to the faith and morality, and the reply was inscribed in the index last June 27. The next day the Pope approved the congregation's finding and ordered its publication.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, July 6.

THOUGHTS while strolling: Wonder if chili stand proprietors ever eat chili? Cass Gilbert, the architect. What became of jabberwocky? For rent: "Duplex Malsomette." Isn't that splendid? Those slim, plump tubular gowns with bright flowered ornaments. Arthur Somers Roche, a Somerville (Mass.) boy, who made good in the city.

The ex-Polities girl who carries a lorgnette. Those salmon pink shirts with yard-long collar points. And the capuled mustache boys they adorn. Part of the New York parade of mad-dies dramatizing themselves. There should be no penalty for shooting a chauffeur who starts his car while you are in his path.

Modernistic pianos. Mac West, the actress. More jobs than ever for musicians, now that many movies have an orchestra in the pit and on the stage. And feature those fidgety solo syncopators. A cafe once known as the clearing house for white slave traffic.

Another one of those dingy little theaters where drama goes cock-eyed. 2nd horn-rimmed play-wrights think great big thoughts. A Scotsman in kilts on a motor cycle—hoot, hoot and putt, putt. The elegant new Boston buses. Constance Talmadge's ex-husband—whatshisname, the cigarette man.

The hard-boiled iads who drive mail trucks—and make your heart jump up and kiss your tonsils. In attitudes to keep men fit. Mayor Walker's tailor. What a publicity record he received with his honor reputed the best-dressed man in New York. And he isn't by six city blocks.

Those millinery shops with autographed photos of actresses. And gushing plump proprietors who call customers "Mod-dom." Precocious children in half stockings who talk as worldly as the middle-aged. Hall Caine's son—Clarence Cawent, an actor. Charles McAdam, the singing salesman. Red-faced jolly miller types who wait tables in the Broadway chop houses. John Clarke, the singer. The cry "Boat's in" among the taxi drivers and the race toward the pier. Chinese tourists who walk in groups—each with a camera. What's become of the fellow who used to scratch matches on his trousers?

LOVE of literature expressed in the booth of a Broadway cafe patronized by chorus girls: "I love Sunday mornings so I can stay in bed and read the funnies."

A THEATRICAL manager tells about a team of leap-and-catch dancers who appear almost au naturel, save for loin cloths of leopard skin. They have been appearing together for some years. Recently they quarreled on way to the theater. She stumbled and fell. It was her claim he was unchivalrous and made no effort to assist her. So, after a bitter scene, they separated. He probably was fed up on catching her all his life.

THE vogue of the torch song in the mellowing haunts of Broadway is no more. The torch song was the lament of the disappointed lover—he or she was "carrying the torch." It was so named by Tommy Lyman, a pale young man with a thin whispering voice who has warbled his melancholy way around cabarets of the world.

I have heard Tommy sing his wistful songs in Kelly's on Houston street, at Luigi's bar in Paris, the Kit Kat in London and at private entertainments, and amid all the gaiety around him never saw him smile.

THE next job I tackle—and judging by letters from various readers the date is not distant—I am going to hire a secretary like the one I met this morning. He said his employer was not in, and added: "He was plastered last night and has the screaming-memories." It was refreshing to hear that a man you could not see was not in conference.

HONEY IS A VALUABLE SWEET

Honey is the most quickly assimilated of all sweets and for this reason many physicians suggest its use in the daily diet to replace a part of the sugar commonly used—especially in the case of children. Pure honey is less likely to cause acid stomach than cane sugar. It is very sweet, of course, and only a little of it should be used at a time. Too much is likely to create a dislike for it. Bread and honey with a glass of milk makes an ideal mid-afternoon lunch for children and one that is usually well liked.

Bakes Like Magic

Three Varieties Give Changes of Taste for Different Requirements.

Fruit whips make simple desserts.

There are several types of fruit whips—all of which are attractive when properly made, and very appetizing. Their food value differs somewhat, according to the type of whip. The first is made from egg white, sugar and fruit pulp. In this the egg white furnishes a very easily digested form of protein, the sugar supplies energy value in the form of carbohydrate and the fruit the valuable minerals and vitamins as well as the small amount of cellulose or bulk.

In making fruit whips of this type, two fresh egg whites are used for each cup of finely mashed fresh fruit pulp that is mixed with one-half to two-thirds cup of confectioners' sugar. The mixture is whipped with an egg beater or wire whip until it is very light or fluffy. This takes sometimes as long as 10 minutes, and if one has an electric beater a great deal of energy and arm movement are saved.

The amount mentioned, that is, the two egg whites and the cup of fruit pulp, will whip up to make enough whip for five generous or six small servings. It is piled into sherbet cups and thoroughly chilled before serving. Occasionally, little cups may be lined with lady fingers or pieces of sponge cake or the whip may be piled on thin slices of sponge or angel cake after being thoroughly chilled.

Strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, fresh peaches and a mixture of equal part of ripe currants and raspberries make perhaps the best whips of this type.

More Simple Kind.

The second variety is more simply made from fresh, very ripe fruit, slightly sweetened and thoroughly chilled and then served in fancy dishes or sherbet cups garnished with lady fingers and whipped cream. A mixture of fresh fruit such as strawberries, tiny cubes of ripe fresh pineapple and diced oranges, or any of the ripe berries, diced peaches, bananas, oranges, plain diced apple—in fact, any of the summer fruits—can be used in this way to make a very quick and delicious dessert. Their food value lies in the minerals and vitamins supplied by the fruit, the fat and vitamins supplied by the cream and the small amount of energy and carbohydrate material from the lady fingers and sugar.

The third type is that composed of gelatin, fruit juices and egg white or cream. They are, like the first type, readily assimilated, and supply a small amount of protein as well as the vitamins and mineral matter in the fruit.

In this group, fruit juices are slightly thickened with gelatin. Allow one tablespoon of gelatin to two cups of fruit juice or mixed fruit juice and water that has been slightly sweetened. If the fruit is insipid in flavor it is best to add a teaspoon of lemon juice.

The gelatin mixture is cooled until it begins to stiffen and is then beaten with an egg beater until very light and frothy. The stiffly beaten whites of two eggs may be whipped into the fruit mixture or one cup of whipped cream may be folded in. The mixture is then thoroughly chilled and served with a garnish of fresh fruit.

MOST COOKS IN SUMMERTIME FAVOR EASILY COOKED MEATS

The Minute Steak Makes a Strong Appeal in Hot Weather.

The best types of meat to use in the summer diet are those which do not require very long cooking, that is, they are best from the point of view of the cook.

Steaks, chops, broiled chicken, cold sliced meats—those of the ready to serve variety or boiled tongue, ham, corned beef can be used with the least amount of work on the part of the home cook.

Minute steak, steak that is cut very thin, not more than a quarter of an inch thick, then cooked in a very hot frying pan one minute on each side, is also a good summer meat. These steaks must be cut from the more tender parts of the animal and because they are so thin, it is best to use a large pan for a generous sized piece must be used for each serving. However, it cooks so very quickly that it makes an excellent summer dinner.

EXERT CARE IN PREPARING AND COOKING VEGETABLES

Vegetables can be ruined in flavor and lose much of their nutritive value by too long cooking. There are many kinds of vegetables and it is well to recognize that they require careful treatment to develop their best flavor and to retain their health-giving qualities. All vegetables should be put on to cook in boiling water.

of the other so-called sweet-juiced vegetables should be cooked in just enough water to keep them from burning. This water should be used as a sauce when they are served or used in the making of vegetable soups. Onions, cabbage, cauliflower, kohlrabi and other strong-juiced vegetables need enough water to cover them completely. All vegetables should be cooked just long enough to make them tender. When the vegetables are fresh, it will be found that they cook quicker than those that have been picked a long time before using.

SERVE FROZEN SALAD
AT SUMMER MEALS

In Planning Hot Weather
Menus Include Tempting
Frozen Dishes.

Frozen salads are refreshing, appetizing and different enough to give the summer hostess a reputation for good food. They have the added advantage of simplifying company meals by combining dessert and salad course in one. This is especially true when the fruit salad type is used. Another of their advantages is that they can be prepared so far ahead of time that the hostess has plenty of time to rest.

There are several types and they may be kept as simple or made as elaborate as desired. There is a sort of finish about serving home-made frozen dishes that is hard to attain with many other foods, and while they are sometimes considered an extravagance both in time and in money, there are many types that do not fit into this class. The frozen fruit salads are perhaps best to serve for luncheons or dinners. There are certain combinations of cream cheese and fruit that are delicious as luncheon salads or as salad with a very simple dinner.

Most salads are frozen without stirring, that is, they are mixed packed into the freezer can or mold, packed in ice and salt or put into the electric refrigerator and left alone until ready to serve.

Most of the fruit salads are made up of a gelatin base, using, for six servings, two teaspoons of unflavored gelatin soaked in one cup of fruit juice or in one-half cup of cold water for 10 minutes. This is then dissolved over hot water and stirred into one-half cup of mayonnaise that is well seasoned. To this is added one-half cup of milk and one cup of whipped cream. Any kind of fruit may be added, though combinations give the best results. Two cups of fruit in all should be used.

A good mixture is made up of one-half cup of sliced berries, one-half cup of finely sliced ripe banana, two or three slices of pineapple cut in small pieces and one dozen Maraschino cherries cut in quarters. Stir the fruit into the mayonnaise and gelatin mixture and pack into small molds or one large one.

Seal the edges of the mold with a strip of paper that has been dipped in melted fat and bury in equal parts of crushed ice and ice cream salt for three hours. Turn out on lettuce, garnish with whole berries. Serve with narrow strips of toasted sponge cake or lady fingers as a combined salad and dessert course.

PLAN TO TAKE ICE CREAM
IN YOUR PICNIC LUNCH

Convenient Ways of Packing the Product Have Been Worked Out.

Persons planning a picnic should spend thought in planning the picnic luncheon because well-balanced meals are as necessary for picnics as for any other of the daily meals.

With the thought in view of including the proper types of food in the picnic menu, the suggestion is made that commercial ice cream may now be obtained in convenient packages that may be carried with little inconvenience on picnics.

Almost any dealer in commercial ice cream will fix up ice cream for a picnic party providing the order for the product is given a day or so previous to the picnic date.

Many of the commercial ice cream dealers will gladly put an extra amount of ice around the freezer of ice cream when information is given that the product is to be carried on a picnic.

Garnish Colorless Dishes.
A pale colored food such as cauliflower or turnips needs an extra touch. True they are delicious to eat anyway, but the dish would be greatly improved if a bit of color were added. Paprika, minced parsley, egg yolk, or a little grated cheese adds this.

Banana Salad.

Just split a good ripe banana lengthwise. Roll each half in boiled salad dressing and then roll in crushed peanuts. Chill thoroughly and serve on lettuce. Mayonnaise dressing can be used instead of the boiled dressing, and crushed walnuts may be used in place of peanuts, if desired.

To Make Light Omelets.
In omelets and cheese souffles a level teaspoon of baking powder added to the recipe for six eggs will give you a superior product.

Time-Saving Tip.
If chocolate and melted butter are in the same recipe they may be melted slowly together over the flame. The butter will prevent the chocolate from burning.
Olives, green or ripe, sliced and chopped fine are delicious added to white sauce or a brown gravy.

PHYSICIANS SAY:

"INFERIOR TOILET PAPERS ARE NEVER SAFE"

PHYSICIANS urge women not to buy harsh, inferior tissues. They point to actual cases of suffering and costly treatments caused by using "just any" toilet paper.

For your family's sake don't ask for "toilet paper." Say ScottTissue or Waldorf. Doctors approve these tissues and more than 107,000,000 rolls are being bought this year by American women.

Clean your refrigerator with Old Dutch every week. This is of utmost importance, especially in the summertime when foods spoil so easily—so many health troubles are caused by food contaminated in an unclean refrigerator.

Old Dutch safeguards your refrigerator with

Healthful Cleanliness

an important health protection

The most important thing you can put into your refrigerator is Healthful Cleanliness. You need it to keep food pure and wholesome. The surest way to keep the refrigerator sanitary, fresh and sweet is to clean it regularly with Old Dutch.

Old Dutch is a natural cleanser whose basic ingredient "Seismotite," is of distinctive character and efficiency. Through the microscope you see it as thousands of flaky, flat shaped particles. There is nothing else like it for removing dirt. With the visible uncleanliness it takes away impurities you cannot see. Old Dutch chases all dirt, none is left behind!

Old Dutch doesn't scratch. This drawing of a highly magnified Old Dutch particle shows how these particles, like tiny erasers, remove the dirt by a clean sweep without scratching. Safest for all cleaning because it contains no grit.

Grit scratches. This drawing of a highly magnified gritty particle shows how grit scratches. Scratches not only mar the beauty of surfaces, but are lodging places for dirt and often dangerous impurities. Avoid harsh, scratchy grit. There's nothing else like it.

TASTY SANDWICHES FOR PICNIC LUNCH

A Variety of Appetizing Sandwiches Makes an Appreciated Luncheon.

The outdoor picnic calls for sandwiches and plenty of them. For in the realm of picnic food, the sandwich holds first place in the estimation of the great majority of picnickers.

It demands but little ingenuity to so plan the variety of sandwiches that every partaker thereof finds several kinds much to his liking. "Finger" sandwiches of the utmost daintiness may hobnob with "man-sized" combinations, such as sliced meat, cheese, tomato and lettuce and mayonnaise, built up in layers and cut in triangles.

Try a Manchester Sandwich. On buttered slices of rye bread, place layers of tongue, Swiss cheese and slice of tomato. Finish with mayonnaise and a slice of rye bread buttered side down.

Sardine Sandwiches. Mash sardines, add chopped hard-cooked eggs, lemon juice, butter and seasonings. Spread on slices of white bread, lightly buttered and cut in oblong pieces.

Potted Ham Sandwiches. Wrap bread in it is taken from oven in a towel wrung out of cold water, cover with several thicknesses of dry cloth and set aside for several hours. Remove crust and cut in slices as thin as possible and spread with creamed butter and potted ham.

Bacon and Lettuce Sandwich. Fry thinly sliced bacon crisp. Spread thin slices of bread with butter; cover each slice with lettuce leaf; place a layer of bacon between; cut into three-cornered shapes. Wrap each one separately.

Save Fruit Syrups. When you serve pineapple in salad or dessert, be careful to pour all the syrup into a glass jar and save it; do the same with other fruit syrups; then, in a wonderfully short time, you will find that in your icebox are enough syrups for a delicious beverage.

Whipped cream desserts at plain milk cost

by Mary Blake

Isn't that interesting news! Just think of all the delicious fluffy barietans and charlottes and creams that you can have, without a bit of expensive whipping cream! This is what you do. Buy a few cans of Carnation Milk. Take off the labels, put the cans in a pan of water and boil the water five minutes. Let the cans cool, then put them in the refrigerator to get thoroughly chilled. Whenever you want a dessert with whipped cream as a basis, simply open a can of Carnation, pour the milk into a chilled bowl, add 1/4 teaspoon gelatine (dissolved) to cup of milk—and whip!

Carnation makes wonderful desserts, rich and smooth and creamy. It has a double portion of cream, you know, broken up into the finest particles so it stays distributed all through the milk. Its richness and fine texture make candies and ice creams, cream sauces and soups, puddings and cakes exceptionally fine-textured and delicate. And when you think that this pure whole milk—evaporated for convenience and sterilized for safekeeping—costs only one-third as much as whipped cream, you will surely want to use it for all your cooking.

Send for the Carnation Cook Book. It's free. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., 100 Carnation Bldg., Oconomowoc, Wis.

1/4 cup sugar, 1 1/4 cups Carnation Milk, 1/4 cup water, 1 square bitter chocolate, 1/4 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 dozen lady fingers. Soak granulated gelatine in 2 tsp. cold water 5 minutes. Melt shaved chocolate in double boiler, add sugar, 1/4 cup water and 1/4 cup Carnation. Let cook 5 minutes or until smooth; pour over gelatine and stir until dissolved. When cool, add vanilla. Whip 1 cup Carnation which has been chilled for a couple of hours, gradually add chocolate and gelatine mixture and stir until it begins to thicken. When well thickened pour carefully into mold which has been lined with lady fingers. Chill for hour or more. Turn out, cover with whipped Carnation and garnish with maraschino cherries or nuts.

Carnation Macaroon Dessert

1 1/4 tsp. gelatine, 1/4 cup water, 9 macaroons, crumbled, 1 1/4 cups Carnation Milk, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla. Soak gelatine 5 minutes in 1/4 cup water mixed with 1/4 cup Carnation. Scald 1/4 cup Carnation diluted with 1/4 cup water; pour over slightly beaten egg yolks to which the sugar has been added; cook in double boiler until mixture thickens slightly (about 3 minutes); pour over gelatine and stir until dissolved. When cool, add vanilla. Whip 1 cup Carnation which has been chilled for a couple of hours, gradually add gelatine mixture and stir until it begins to thicken. Add crumbled macaroons and pour into mold. Chill for hour or more. Serves 5.

1 1/4 tsp. gelatine, 2 tsp. cold water.

Rich for Desserts

Carnation Milk is doubly rich in cream. It makes the most delicious desserts. It is dependable, too. Pure, whole milk, sterilized for safekeeping. You'll find it more convenient, more economical than milk in any other form.

COUNTY JURIST DISQUALIFIES SELF IN DOG TRACK HEARING

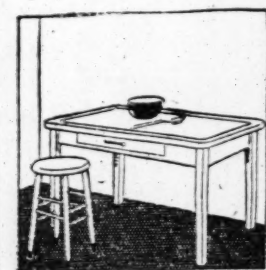

Judge Mulloy Names Edgar B. Woolfolk of Troy to Sit for Him.
Circuit Judge Mulloy yesterday disqualified himself to sit as judge in the hearing of injunction proceedings against the Ramona and Silver Heel dog racing tracks of St. Louis County and appointed Judge Edgar B. Woolfolk, of Troy, to act in his place. Judge Woolfolk will set a date for the hearing, at Clayton.

A temporary injunction now exists against the two tracks, granted on the motion of former Attorney General Gentry and Prosecuting Attorney Mueller who alleged the tracks were a nuisance. Counsel for the tracks declared Judge Mulloy was prejudiced against dog racing.

At the left is the sailing yacht Atlantic, owned by Gerard B. Lambert of St. Louis, which will be among the vessels to sail from New York to Spain in the race which starts tomorrow. The Atlantic, almost 25 years old, crossed the ocean in 1905 in 12 days, 4 hours and 1 minute, a record which still stands. I'LL TELL THE WORLD

HOW STYLES ARE CREATED

As the average woman thinks they are:
A group of geniuses, gathering in a salon, select various pieces of material. These are draped and redraped over exotic models as the geniuses step back to survey the effect, then step forward to change a line here, add a colorful touch there, crumple this and smooth that, until perfection is reached.

Then the geniuses, placing the model on a pedestal, exchange aesthetic opinions and gradually form their congress of artistic brains emerges a style that is the acme of perfection, chicness and good taste.

Then the geniuses go into another series, draining the inner resources of their minds to create another ravishing mode for mankind.
These artistic conferences continue, with time out for ambrosia and nectar on which the geniuses feed, until the season's entire group of exquisite fashions is determined. Then the master minds retreat to their various cloisters and think and think and think about the fashions for the year after that.

How they really are created:
A group of dress, cloak and suit manufacturers, gathered in a New York loft and ask one another how business has been this season.
After agreeing rotten is no name for their light up cigars and have a conference.

"Well, gents," says Max, "how about the styles for next year?"

"Radically different from this year, as usual," says Moe. "I'll let you guys fix up the details."

"Well, in the fur coat line," says Jake, "they're wearing 'em short this season, so next year they've got to be long. I ain't right for any fur coat to be in style for more than one consecutive year."

"You said it, Jake," says Herman. "And in the cloak and suit division they've been buying exclusive suits this year, so next year those have got to be out. I ain't particular what we substitute for 'em so long as next year we push assemblies out of style."

"Sure, sure," says Max. "Next year we'll give 'em one-piece suits.
Now, how about the colors, gents?"

"Well," offers Moe, "the browns and grays have been going pretty good this season, so let's make blues and greens the thing next year. And we better make it light blue and light green, boys, because do you know what some of the women folks do now?"

"No," says Jake. "What are they up to?"

"Well," Moe explains, "some of 'em what had tan and orchid
dresses a year ago went and dyed
'em brown and gray this year when we picked them colors to be the thing. Can you imagine the nerve of 'em, being in style for two years and only buying one with 'So that's why I say it should be light blue and light green for next year, because, don't you see, they can't dye this year's browns and grays and have 'em
come out right?"

"You said something, Moe," says Herman. "And just to show 'em they can't get away with anything like that, let's add an inch or two to next year's skirt and double-cross 'em good."

"A fine idea, Herman," says Moe.
"And while we're at it, let's decide that whatever fur trimming is right this year is going to be wrong in 1929. I forget what fur trimming we made the style this season, but whatever it is, it's blab
the next year."

"O. K. gents," says Jake. "I guess that settles everything for 1929. Now, how about a little pinch?" We've got four hours left yet before lunch."

ADISH FOR TODAY

Breaded Lamb Chops.

Take six heavy rib chops for three people. Have the butcher skin and crack the bones. Take a sharp knife and cut the bones out of the chops neatly, then roll them and pin with a wooden toothpick. When ready to cook dip in beaten egg, roll in fresh soft crumbs, dust with pepper and salt, then put in a frying pan that has been roasted with a cut bud of garlic,
then heated, and a heaping tablespoonful of butter has been put in long enough to melt. Lay in the chops and turn the flame down to medium and cover closely. When the chops start to cook, turn them frequently.
When ready to brown them give a little more heat.

A tomato sauce may be served
or a gravy made in this way:
Take the bones, a little celery,
a mixed onion and a pint of water and cook until the meat comes off the bones, then strain, season, cool, remove the fat and set aside until ready to make the sauce. When the chops are done and lifted pour
in the gravy, heat, season, thicken with roux, then strain into a hot gravy boat and serve with the chops. Sometimes a small can of tomatoes is added to the broth. Serve on a hot dish garnished with parsley.

CHIC CHERIE

Fabric Shoes Are Newest

A lively boll-weevil could ruin the shoe
business

The United Association of Amalgamated Laundry Workers must be behind it. Or something of the sort. Else why are all the smartest shoes of the season made of cotton or linen or shantung, with crepe de chine close following after? Cherie, to the right, is reflecting just what damage an evilly intentional boll-weevil could do to the shoe business this summer, while gazing with admiration at the oxford of printed linen, tricked out with trimmings of green kid. The larger sketch shows a shoe of plain and block printed linen, a pair of printed cotton, a shoe of white pique with red edgings, a shoe of printed Rodier fabric. Washable fabrics, will they wash? Someone else can try!

Cherie, of course, is an exhibit of the summit of fashionableness. She has shoes to match her costume. Now whether she had the suit made to match the shoes or the shoes made to match the suit, we don't know. Or perhaps she bought them that way from a shop that specializes in these things. Her suit is of printed linen—a two-piece dress with a belt and narrow ribbon ties, a short coat bound with the ribbon, a pleated skirt. And the shoes that match! Ernest and Eustace and Edwin are coming up with lemonade, books, fans and anything else that can save her a step or two, because Cherie, finding herself the perfect fashion picture, thinks she will just sit here and be decorative all day.

FASHION FADS AND FANCIES

CRASH crashes into style for summer handbags and shoes.
The former, in envelope types,
are lined with silk or chamois printed linen crash shoes have comfortable walking heels and are styled in opera pump models. All of the foremost shades of summer are featured in these bag and shoe sets.

Casting a Straw Vote.—Fashion authorities are voting a place of prominence to the straw hats and handbags. The former have modernistic buckles and are banded in brightly colored kid, while the handbags to match have kid-covered frames and strap-back handles of kid.

CHURCH BIDS IRISH GIRLS HIDE KNEES

IRISH colleens are maintaining a demure silence following the publication of the regulations laid down by the Irish Modest Dress and Decorum Crusade recently instigated here and officially commended
by the Pope.

The regulations, they say, speak for themselves and need no further comment here:

No dresses are to be worn which are:
Less than 4 inches below the knee (measured when kneeling);
and a suggestive style or so loosely or low as to offend modesty; therefore not lower than the collar bone for church wear and not more than one inch below it at any time.

Without sleeves sufficiently long to cover at least half the upper arm at any time, nor without sleeves to the wrist for church wear.

Of transparent material unless a non-transparent slip, complying with the above regulations, be worn.

Women must abstain from:
Immodest postures.

Loud talking or boisterous laughing in public and coarse or irreverent expressions.

Alcoholic drink at dances or entertainments.

Improper cinema shows, plays,
lectures in public and coarse or irreverent what relates to sea-bathing, and they should show their disapproval of same.

Stork Panties.

We mothers spend a good many dollars on rubber panties for baby's first year, but this amount can be lessened if proper care is taken of them. After washing and drying the panties put them in a box containing a few spoonfuls of talcum powder or cornstarch and shake vigorously. Shake off surplus powder and you will find they are silk and smooth as when new.
Consequently they will not wear so readily and will last many weeks.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

WHITEY GETS AN IDEA.

Where ideas come from no one knows;
Or how, or why, an idea grows.

—Peter Rabbit.

It does seem to be that way.
Ideas just pop into one's mind and there they grow, just as a plant grows from a seed. It doesn't seem to make much difference
whether the idea is good or bad,
it starts and grows in just the same way.

Whitey, the little son of Peter Rabbit, with whom none of his brothers and sisters would have anything to do, because his coat was all white and his eyes were pink, was a freak. A freak, you know, is merely something very unusual. Never before had there been a white rabbit in Peter Rabbit's family that he knew of. Mrs. Peter was sure that there never had been one in her family. But there was one now. They had named him Whitey.

Whitey was now in the bramble-tangle on the edge of the Old Pasture. He had run away from home in the dear Old Briar-patch and now he was beginning to wish that he hadn't. He was just plain scared. All night long he sat in that bramble-tangle, not daring to poke his nose outside. The world, which had seemed such a wonderful place, looked at from the edge of the Old Briar-patch, now seemed a terrible place looked at from the bramble-tangle in the Old Pasture.

"Oh, dear!" whimpered Whitey.
Just after jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had begun his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky. "Oh dear! I wish I were back home. I wish I didn't have a white coat. It's this coat that makes it so hard."

"Well, I never!" exclaimed a voice. "If here isn't an all-white Rabbit! Who do you belong to?"
Whitey looked up to see Bob

"I belong to Mr. and Mrs. Rabbit," replied Whitey.

White sitting on a fence post and looking down at him.

"I belong to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rabbit," replied Whitey, trying to be dignified, but failing utterly.

"If that's the case, they had no
business to let you leave the dear Old Briar-patch," said Bob White most decidedly.

"They didn't let me," replied Whitey. "They didn't know anything about it. I—I ran away."
"Then the best thing you can do is to run home again," replied Bob.
"I don't dare to," declared Whitey, and told Bob about the two adventures he had getting over there. "It's all my white coat,"
he continued. "My brothers and sisters left home before I did and they are getting along all right. I could do the same thing if it were not for this white coat."

"If that's the case," said Bob White, "what makes you keep it all nice and white? If it were my coat, I certainly would find a way to change the color of it." With this, Bob White flew away to join

English War Brides Form Chicago Club

An obscure advertisement inserted in the classified section of a Chicago newspaper brought together 18 British girls in a war brides' club. They all married allied soldiers during the World War.

Mrs. Loy Maloney, English-born wife of an American army captain, conceived the notion for transplanted war brides to band together. The response to the advertisement was instant, a dozen British girls being linked in the club by the common bonds of birth and of marriage to soldiers of the allies.

A state charter has been obtained and the club has launched into a program. Mrs. Phyllis Sheehan is president of the club and Mrs. Gertrude Drager is secretary.

his family and to tell them about the white rabbit.

"He talked just as if I could change the color of my coat if I wanted to," said Whitey to himself. "I certainly would if I could,
but I can't."

And right them, without any warning at all, and from nowhere in particular, an idea popped right into Whitey's funny little head. It made him jump right up and kick
his long heels together.

CUCKOO HELD IN EXTORTION PLOT AGAINST DYEING FIRMS

Herman Tipton, Police Say, Attended Meeting of Cleaners Called by Racketeers.

SURRENDER'S TAKES ATTORNEY ALONG

Two Gunmen From Rival Gang Also Reported to Have Been at Conference.

Herman Tipton, one of the leaders of the Cuckoo gang, has been arrested and placed under bond by police in their investigation of the attempts of St. Louis gangsters to gain control of the wholesale cleaning and dyeing business, demanding payment of "dues" and a percentage of gross profits in return for protection against bombing, labor troubles and competition.

Tipton, who is 26 years old, and has a police record of 103 arrests, mostly for investigation, accompanied by his attorney, William Baer, walked into police headquarters yesterday and announced: "I hear you are looking for me."

Questioned on Hotel Conference.

He was informed that the police had been looking for him to question him about demands made on cleaners at a conference held early this week at a room in the Missouri Hotel, among those present being Harry Cramer, president of the White Way Cleaning and Dyeing Co., Twenty-fifth and Hebert streets, and L. McAskill, president of the Mark Dyeing and Dyeing Co., whose Washon plant was bombed recently.

At this meeting, gangsters urged the cleaners to withdraw from their own trade association and join with the gangsters in putting the whole cleaning and dyeing business on a "racket" basis, similar to that effected by gangsters in Chicago.

Denies Attending Meeting.

Tipton was one of the racketeers at the hotel conference, according to police. However, Tipton denied being there and professed not to be involved in the attempt, both verbal and violent, of gangsters to put a legitimate business under gang domination.

After being held for two hours, Tipton was released on $10,000 bond, signed by Beverly Brown, bondsman for the Cuckoo gang. Evidence against him was laid before Circuit Attorney Widener to be presented to the grand jury.

Cleaner Tells of Meeting.

Discussing the hotel conference, Cramer told the Post-Dispatch today: "I was invited down to the hotel, but as soon as I got an inkling of what was going on, I declined to take part and withdrew. I saw that Al Capone, the Chicago gangster, had entered the cleaning and dyeing business up there, and I didn't figure that was the right way for St. Louis cleaners to get out of the mess we're in."

The invitation to me came from another cleaner, who told me there was to be a special meeting. About every one in the association was invited.

The Association. The St. Louis Cleaners and Dyers Association, composed of wholesalers operating union shops and getting their business from proprietors of small cleaning and pressing places.

Couldn't Identify Tipton.

Police brought Tipton before Cramer yesterday, but Cramer said he could not identify him as he had not remained long enough at the hotel conference to meet the racketeers.

McAskill, another cleaner at the meeting, today declined to discuss the racketeers' proposition.

Two notorious gunmen, allied with a faction in the Italian gang feud, backed up Tipton in his demands on the cleaners. At the hotel conference, police were informed. Two years ago Tipton and other Cuckoo gangsters were engaged in a deadly feud with Italian gunmen, but a truce was arranged in the interest of better gang business.

Tipton is a brother of Roy Tipton, now serving a prison term with members of "Dinty" Colbeck's gang for the St. Louis mail truck robbery, and of Raymond Tipton, a Cuckoo gangster with a long police record. Herman Tipton's own record includes a two-year sentence for burglary and an arrest for an attempt to extort.
